MOOC Supporting Gifted and Talented Students in your Classroom

If you're an educator who believes in nurturing the potential of every single student, join us on this empowering journey of turning ordinary classrooms into extraordinary spaces of growth. Let's rewrite the classroom narrative, break down barriers, and create an inclusive learning environment where every student can thrive. From addressing the challenges of perfectionism to transforming anxiety into motivation – we've got the strategies to help you build a classroom that's a haven of support.

Learning objectives:

- Understand and redefine the concept of giftedness beyond traditional IQ testing considering domain-specific talent identification and the challenges faced by gifted learners;
- Explore ways of addressing the social and emotional needs of gifted students by exchanging ideas on the challenges they face;
- Investigate how to foster talent development and effectively differentiating instruction for gifted learners.

Key information:

- Start date: 18 September
- End date: 25 October
- Estimated workload: around 4 hours per week
- Duration: 5.5 weeks
- Language: English
- Target audience: any teaching practitioner who wants to support gifted and talented students.
